

2021 FedView Survey

Key Results from the 2021 FEVs

Each year, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) asks employees throughout the Federal Government to provide their views about their organization through the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS). This confidential survey helps measure employees' perceptions about their work experiences, leadership, and agency, and provides agency leaders critical insight regarding areas where improvements have been made and where there are opportunities for further improvement.

Employee feedback shared through the FEVS has played an important role in enabling DoD OIG leaders and employees to achieve significant positive gains in all areas of engagement during the past several years. This snapshot illustrates the growth in a few key engagement areas from 2015 to 2021. These positive results are a reflection of the DoD OIG's total workforce effort to improve the organization.

DoD OIG employees will have another opportunity to share their candid feedback and help the DoD OIG continue to trend upward in the 2022 FEVS. Eligible employees will receive an e-mail with a link for their confidential survey.
